CONCERNING CONTINUING JURISDICTION TO MODIFY FAMILY LAW ORDERS
DURING THE PENDENCY OF AN APPEAL.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) (a) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(I) On January 13, 2020, the Colorado supreme court issued its opinion in In re: The Parental Responsibilities Concerning W.C., 456 P.3d 1261 (Colo. 2020), in which it held that the district court does not retain jurisdiction to modify parenting time or decision-making orders based on a change in circumstances when those orders are being appealed;

(II) The supreme court reasoned that the statutes at issue did not specifically grant trial courts continuing jurisdiction after the perfection of appeal;

(III) Under that same reasoning, the supreme court may prohibit the modification of child support and maintenance based on changed circumstances while appeals are pending;

(IV) Further, the supreme court declined to carve out an exception to its rule for cases involving emergency parenting time matters.

(b) Therefore, the general assembly declares that a district court has continuing jurisdiction to modify family law orders based on changed circumstances as described in House Bill 21-1031, specifically reversing the supreme court's holding and decision in In re: The Parental Responsibilities Concerning W.C.
